Blagg, president of the board of regents, will preside at the luncheon, and short talks will be made by Mayor Fred P. Robinson, and Fred R. Wolfers, president of the Chamber of Commerce and L. E. Ziegler, superintendent of the public schools. The visitors will be called on for talks. The business men and citizens are cordially invited to attend this luncheon at noon.

Out-of-town members of the Board of Regents of the College will come to Maryville this evening and in the morning to be in attendance at the meeting with the appropriations committee. The members of the board who will be here are Charles L. Mosley of Stanberry, Charles F. Ward of Plattsburg and T. D. Parr of Hamilton.

During the afternoon, the visitors will be taken for a drive over the country and stops will be made at several of the fine stock farms. Some of the visitors will leave Maryville on the Burlington train Saturday afternoon while others will probably be here until Saturday night.

The College is asking for the following appropriations for the biennial period, 1923-1924:

Salaries, $275,000.

Supplies and equipment for all departments, $30,000.

Repairs and alterations of present buildings, $50,000.

Fuel, light and water, $20,000.

Deficiency, $5,391.44.

According to a dispatch in today's Kansas City Times, the appropriations committee of the house yesterday completed its recommendations for biennial appropriations for the other state teachers colleges in the state. The following are the appropriations for the teachers colleges approved by the committee:

Kirksville, $416,500; Warrensburg, $376,176; Cape Girardeau, $347,784; Springfield, $692,000. It is understood in the Springfield appropriations provisions have been made for a new building while no new buildings have been recommended at Kirksville, Warrensburg and Cape Girardeau as they have already from six to eight buildings.

Chairman McGregor announced the committee would complete its work next week with the preparing of an appropriation bill for the state university. An adequate sum will remain in the state general revenue fund to provide well for the institution at Columbia, unless heavy tax reductions are attempted by the legislature.

Rooters Galore to Bearcat-Tark Game

College Bus Takes Twenty Boys and Many Go In Automobiles—Team Left at Two

Pres. Uel W. Lamkin, of the State Teachers College was unable to go to Tarkio for the Maryville-Tarkio basketball game tonight but in his stead he sent what will be an equivalent in support for the team. This was in the form of the College bus, loaded to the fenders with howling, rooting college boys all energetically supporting the Bearcats in their battle tonight.

This bus load was not all of the rooters that went to Tarkio today. Possibly the first car that went over the roads found them rough but the last car found a well beaten track for the cars going to the lair of the Tark were numerous.

It is believed that when the game is called at 8 o'clock tonight that there will be as many as 100 Maryville rooters on one side of the court. This will help a lot in the winning of the game.

ANNA LARSEN OF BEDISON IS RETURNING HOME.

HAD LIVED WITH UNCLE

When Lehman Kjersner, Dies, 70 Years Old Woman Leaves—Takes U. S. Flag.

Anna Larsen of Bedison will leave Conception Jct. tonight at 10 o'clock on her journey to Aalborg, Denmark. She is alone and without relatives in this country and is now returning to her homeland to spend the few remaining years of her life with her only sister.

Miss Larsen has lived near Bedison for eighteen years. She came over here for the express purpose of caring for her uncle, Lehman Kjersner in the last few years of his life. Mr. Kjersner died last November at the age of 92 years, and his niece, feeling that her task here has been accomplished, is returning home. The little nineteen acre farm on which they lived near Bedison, will be sold by Ed Fannon, executor of the estate. Mr. Fannon also made complete arrangements for Miss Larsen's sailing as she is ignorant of American affairs and speaks but very little English despite her eighteen years residence here. She and her uncle always spoke Danish.

But despite her inability to speak English, she was a loyal American during her residence here. She loved to hear the "Star Spangled Banner" and other patriotic songs played. Whenever she would hear an orchestra or band she would want them to play America's national song. Among the things she is taking home with her, is a carefully folded flag of Stars and Stripes. She is also taking with her several views of Maryville and a few ears of yellow field corn.

Miss Larsen is 70 years old, and was ready and anxious to return home. She goes to St. Louis, then to New York City Where she sails Tuesday on the Scandinavian-American line, on the Frederick VIII, for her native land.

Hre uncle, Mr. Kjersner came to this country about twenty-five years ago, and has lived most of his time on his little farm near Bedison. "Shep" an old collie doy, was one of the sad mourners at Mr. Kjersner's death for he had been a constant companion for years. Miss Larsen has worried a great deal about "Shep" while planning her departure. Finally she gave orders that he be shot and buried after she was gone. But that order has been countermanded and "Shep" is going to have a home for the rest of his days with one of the farmers near his old homeplace.

Within a fortnight this old Danish woman will be among friends, friends with whom she may talk and visit, and greet upon the streets, and pass her evening years with people, who understand and appreciate her.

13 DIE IN KANSAS CITY, KANSAS FIRE

OTHERS ARE MISSING IN ROOMING HOUSE BLAZE

FIRE STARTS IN GARAGE?

It Is Claimed He Was Drinking—Old Building Burned Like Cardboard.

Kansas City, Kas. Feb. 23—The thirteenth victim of the fire, which destroyed the brick and frame rooming house here early today, was brought from the ruins shortly before noon. The body was identified as that of Edgar Munyan, 18 son of Mrs. Veilla Munyan, another victim of the fire. Five more bodies are believed to be in the ruins.

An investigation this afternoon revealed that T. C. Hattley, owner of the garage on the ground floor of the burned building, was in an intoxicated condition the evening before the fire broke out, according to an announcement by Phil Corcoran, deputy fire marshal.

"I passed the garage abuot 11 o'clock the night before," declared E. D. Hodge a taxicab driver for the Brown, one of the victims, "And I saw a blazing fire in the stove in the garage, and Hattley passing around the bottle. He invited me to come in and have a drink."

Hattley, when confronted with Dodge's statement denied it, saying that he had no fire in the garage and that his unusual actions were due to excitement and that he had not been drinking.

Kansas City, Kas., Feb. 23—Twelve charred bodies were found this morning in the ruins of a two story brick and frame tenement house that was destroyed by fire here early this morning.

It is believed that fifteen of the twenty, who were trapped on the seon dfloor, have perished. Six of these are believed to be children. Firemen this morning continued to dig in the debris in an effort to recover the victims of the holocaust.

The dead are: Mrs. Eliza Colston, and children, Viola, 6, Vernon, 4; Leo Brown and Mrs. Jessie Brown and four children, Katherine, 7, Arthur, 6, Margaret, 5, and Leo, Jr. 3; Mrs. Veilla Munyan, 63, housekeeper for the Brown family, and two unidentified persons.

The firemen are making a final checkup and attempting to account for all of the missing. Many narrowly escaped by jumping from the second story windows when escape by stairways was cut off. The Brown family occupied three rooms in the southwest corner of the building on the upper floor. Under this part six bodies were recovered.

The origin of the fire has not been determined but it is believed to have been started by spontaneous combustion augmented by oil in the garage on the ground floor. Relatives stood around the burning building throughout the morning in silence, anxiously awaiting, as firemen dug into the wreckage to salvage bodies. Women watched with tense faces as each body was carried out, wondering if it were any of their relatives.

The passer-by, who discovered the fire and gave the alarm, saved many lives, which would have been lost if the discovery had been delayed. All were asleep in the building when the fire broke out. The old, dilapidated, frame building burned like cardboard and was almost destroyed before the firemen could respond to the call.

Judge Dawson took the matter under advisement. Miss Hewitt stated emphatically that she preferred to serve the sentence in Grant City.

VALUE OF SOY BEAN SHOWN AT COLLEGE

PIONEER WORK DONE OF GREAT VALUE

200 BU. IS DISTRIBUTED

$90,000 Return is Conservative Estimate—Gives Results of Two Year Experiments

Over two hundred bushels of soy beans were distributed by the State Teachers College last year, according to a statement by W. W. Stanfield, head of the agricultural department. Conservative estimates from this seed would have netted at the market price about $90,000. Upon the subject of soy beans, Mr. Stanfield has prepared the following reports:

For several years the State Teachers College has been carrying on work on experiments with soy beans Without doubt it is entitled a great deal of credit for the pioneer work it has done in the growing of soy beans in Northwest Missouri.

Unquestionably the soy bean is the most valuable annual legume for this part of the United States and the farmer who is not growing it regularly is neglecting a crop very much worth while.

In 1922 the College distributed over two hundred bushels of soy beans. Assuming that one bushel will plant twelve acres it can reasonably be stated that the College supplied seed for more than two thousands acres devoted to soy beans. Most of these beans were planted with corn and hogged down.

Had these beans averaged fifteen bushels per acre, more than thirty thousand bushels of seed would have been produced. Three million bushels at the prevailing price of three dollars per bushel would have brought the growers ninety thousand dollars. These figures are not in t helcast exaggerated—on the contrary they are very conservative.

It would be interesting to know that the value of these beans were to the stock to which they were given. It is the unanimous verdict of the farmers who have grown soy beans that they are a very profitable crop when hogged or sheeped down.

This is the time of the year when the forward looking farmer is getting ready for the rush of spring work. Already the college has had several calls for soy bean seed.

In view of the fact that the college has had several years experience growing soy beans a statement of the results obtained on the College farm should be valuable to Northwest Missouri Farmers.

The following gives the 1922 soy bean results. The figures given following the variety are date planted, date harvested, yield per acre in seed and tons:

Morse 6-5 10-1 21.1 bu. 3.0 Tons. Med. Yellow 6-5 10-8 17.25 bu. 3.0 Tons. Virginia 6-5 10-2 16.6 bu. 2.8 Tons Wilson 6-5 10-2 15.5 bu. 2.6 Tons.

In 1921 the results were: Morse 6-1 9-23 23.2 bu. 2 Ton. Med. Yellow 6-1 10-1 22.0 bu. 1.9 Ton. Virginia 6-1 9-23 17.5 bu. 1.8 Ton. Wilson 6-1 9-24 19.5 bu. 2.0 Ton.

It thus seems that both in 1921 and in 1922 the Morse variety led in seed production and was followed rather closely by Medium Yellow. Wilson and Virginia each yielded almost as well.

For hay production there is little difference in yield per acre. Soy bean hay cut at the proper stage and well cured ranks equal to alfalfa and red clover hay in feeding value according to the results obtained from carefully conducted feeding tests.

Soy beans, being a legume, add nitrogen to the soil through the bacteria in the nodules on the roots. The seed or the soil when soy beans have not hitherto been grown should be inoculated with the soy bean bacteria if maximum returns are to be expected.

The best corn grown on the college farm in 1922 was on a field that was in soy beans the year before. The college has for sale soy beans of the Morse Medium Yellow, Wilson and Virginia varieties. It will pay to plant soy beans

NEW ASSOCIATED CHARITIES PLAN

DISCUSSED BY THOSE INTERESTED THIS AFTERNOON

COUNTY COURT TO HELP

Dr. C. P. Fryer Will Cooperate With Court in Appointing Committee for County Associated Charities

Preliminary steps looking forward to a "County Associated Charities," an organization that will combine the numerous charity drives of the county were taken this afternoon at a meeting in the Chamber of Commerce rooms of representatives interested in past benevolent drives. At this meeting it was suggested that Dr. C. P. Fryer, county health officer, cooperate with the County Court in the appointment of a committee to further investigate the associated charities idea and to make plans looking forward to their adoption in the county for future benevolent drives. The idea was received favorably by the meeting and it was voted that Dr. Fryer cooperate with the County Court in the appointment of this committee, and that he be the chairman of the committee.

Briefly stated, the County Associated Charities idea is:

That every charitable organization coming in the county during the year, present to a committee the amount they can reasonably expect to raise for that year, and for the committee to pass upon the reasonableness of their askings, then to make careful advertising and soliciting plans for campaign, raise the amount of associated charities for the year during one campaign and apportion the money received to the various charities. This plan would accomplish in one campaign what has been done in the past in several campaigns.

A MASTER SPEAKS

General Helmuth von Moltke knew a great deal of secret diplomacy and its ways in both victory and defeat. When the great war was only in the making he stood on the sidelines in supreme command of the German army; when the diplomats spoke, he sent the trained hordes of the Kaiser into Belgium.

Secret government and not the demands of his fellow men had raised him to supreme command; within a few weeks the agencies of secrecy cast him aside.

In the twilight of his life von Moltke wrote well of the thing that made and then destroyed him—the same thing that is throwing its shadow across the world today—when he said:

"The highest art in diplomacy consists, I think, not in preserving the the peace at any cost but in permanently shaping the political situation of a country in such a way that it may be in a position to go to war with favorable prospects."

That has been the purpose of secret diplomacy for thousands of years, as the histories of thousands of wars bear testimony; graveyards are its only enduring monuments.

The successful operation of secret diplomacy is dependent upon the ignorance of the great majority—blind crowd following. Ignorance—lack of understanding—is the basis of hate. Today's hates are tomorrow's wars.

Moltke was right when he wrote that advantage for war and not peace is the high art of secret diplomacy.

America that thundered hands off in South America so that all the world might hear and understand; America that said "Perdicaris alive or Raisuli dead"; America that went over the heads of diplomats to talk to the German people and bring victory to the Allied armies, was the true America and especially of the highest ideals of the new form of government of the people and for the people.

Today America is just as strong and just as true to the high ideals that carried her to leadership among the nations of the the world as she ever was in the past ,but she is being led into the shadows of the secret diplomacy that has wrecked Europe and the first harvest from that diplomacy is ignorance among the masses.

There can never be anything in common between true journalism and secret diplomacy. True journalism writes the story of today today so that all men may read and understand other men; secret diplomacy works in the darkness and supplements its fine words with confidential files where the truth is hidden from all men—its weapons are censorship and suppression—Editor and Publisher.

WASHINGTON'S MAXIMS

Some of Washington's birthday celebrations may have noted the fact that at the age of 12 years George Washington wrote out 110 maxims of "civility and good behavior," as the histories tell us.

Probably the attention which Washington gave to developing a pleasing personality had much to do with his success. He early won the interest of the influential men of the Virginia colony, and his courteous manner and self command were no doubt an element by which he gained attention.

The young people of today are free and easy in their ways, and the majority of them do not make much effort for polished manners. Washington's maxims would seem stiff and formal today, but people need to adopt more of their own that apply to present day conditions.

Flu Toll in 5 Years Preceeding Is 750,000

Approximately 750,000 persons died of influenza in the United States during the five-year period up to 1922 is the estimate of the United States Census Bureau. Of the total number the census bureau believes 548,452 died in the nine months' period of 1918 and 1919, when influenza ravaged the country in one of the worst epidemics of recent years. Figures are not available as yet for the year 1922 or for the present epidemic, the proportions of which are known only through fragmentary reports. In the registration area in 1917 it is recorded that 125,795 persons died of influenza and pneumonia. In 1918 the number jumped to 479,038. In 1919 it was 189,326, in 1920, 182,295, and in 1921, 88,456.

K. C. A. C. FIVE WON FROM DRURY 41 TO 21

At Kansas City last night the Kansas City Athletic Club basketball team won from the Drury College Panthers by a score of 41 to 21. Drury has one of the better teams in the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association and in the contest last night they demonstrated the fact that collegiate ball is nothing to compare with that of the teams from the larger universities and from the leading athletic clubs of the country.

Washington Kept List of House Expenses

Paper Owned by New York State Indicates President Spent $25,- cates Yearly

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 23—An itemized list, by which George Washington accounted for his household expenses from May 24 to August 24, 1789, when the White House was at New York, is contained in a collection of Washington's papers owned by the State and held in the vault of the Education Building at Albany. Washington, upon assuming the presidency, expressed his unwillingness to receive money from the public treasury in excess of actual expenses. With the upkeep cost of three months as a basis, Washington's yearly household expenses amounted to 4925 lbs and 7 shillings, or about $25,000. The account never has been published according to a statement issued by Secretary of State Hamilton yesterday.

The expense list is kept with detail characteristic of Washington, and covers the upkeep of his entire household, which included a secretary, assistant secretary, three maids, 18 servants and a livery of 16 horses.

The coal bill for the three months was only $30, but wood cost $145 and candles $85. The butcher's bill ran to about $660, items indicating that the Persident carved turkey on four occasions. Fresh vegetables cost $290 and milk and cream $145. Lobsters necessitated an outlay of $45, but the President spent only 17 shillings for cake.

He Hid About $16 Away In a Quiet Old Napkin

And Was Badly Outclassed by the Five Pound Man and the Ten Pound Man.

The Sunday School lesson for February 25 deals with a five pound man, and a ten pound man, and a lazy loafer who stowed a trust fund away in a nice quiet old napkin. And the scorn and lash of the lesson fall on the loafer with the napkin.

There have been all kinds of things done with a napkin—things done to no good purpose. One fellow chucks the corner of a napkin down under his chin, between his collar and his neck, and looks like he ought to have brought a bib with him. Another fellow stuffs the two upper napkin corners into two greasy vest pockets making sure that the napkin won't get away. Another fellow forgets about the napkin ring. Another person, usually a lady rolls her Rogers 1847 knives and two dozen forks and spoons into three or four old napkins and hides them away, so the tramps can't find the silverware when they come into the house when the family is away. There has been a lot of fuss and foolishness in the world—with a nice old napkin factoring strong in it all. But probably nobody ever was guilty of such historic napkin foolishness as was the fellow who took the Pound Trust Fund that Jesus tells about and hid it away in a napkin. It was about $16.00 in money. Instead of taking the money out into the world to make it grow and make more money he hid it.

This Sunday School lesson is a lesson of life, growth, increase, getting out where the world lives, sowing, planting, harvesting—and progress.

The napkin fellow reminds me of a little boy I knew about back in Kentucky. He was getting to the point where he had ideas, and his mother concluded that her boy was about old enough to do garden work. So she handed him a sack of beans one day and told him to take the hoe and go out and plant the beans.

He went. And he came back in just a little while. It didn't seem to the mother like her boy had been out long enough to do a good job of planting those beans. So she asked him if he planted the beans.

He said he had.

She asked him where. And he replied:

"In a mule chack."

He was not really old enough to know.

But there are thousands of people who are old enough to know who have within them the power to plant golden seeds of life and service and love that would grow into a grand harvest— but they are lazy loafers and they are just planting "in a mule chack,"—and God and the world fail to get and increase.

I talked a little while ago to a hospital head. This kind of story was told to me:

The big city wanted to build something fitting in the way of monument to the boys of the war. About 250 representative people of the city got together to decide what the monument would be. And about six in the whole 250 wanted to build a hospital or some such institution that would pulse with life, bud with love, service, healing, hope, promise and a great harvest of good deeds.

The rest of the 250 wanted some cold dead marble structure without any eyes, or any heart, or any life, or any love or any feeling, or any healing, or any hope. They wanted the thing that they built to be just as dead as any dead mackerel you ever saw.

They were the Modern Knights of the Napkin. And they trace their code back to the fellow the Jesus denounced—the fellow that hid away the $16.00 in a napkin.

If I had my way about it— which I have not—I'd tear down every gandy monument from one end of the earth to the other and convert the substance thereof into something that has life and love and get-up-and go to it, something that would honor God and serve men—and grow, grow, grow

Somewhere I have read a story about how Nepoleon Bonaparte went down into Italy and found twelve silver statutes of the twelve apostles.

The original twelve apostles were filled with a glory of life such as the world had never seen in men before. They were busy. They glowed. They went about. They preached. They served. They served God on land and sea. They were alive—and the world is still reaping the increase.

These silver apostles were dead.

They failed utterly to represent the twelve living apostles—the twelve apostles were apostles of life.

They say that Napoleon Bonoparte took the twelve silver apostles and melted them up and made money out of them and started it in circluation

It may be that he had no good motive in doing it. And the money may not have done God a great deal of good. I am not telling this story to glorify the money at all, but to emphasis the deadness of the silver apostles.

The people that made the silver apostles belonged to the ancient and addled order of the Knights of the Napkin. They were the advocates of deadness.

The main idea in this lesson is not making money grow into more money. The lesson is a spiritual lesson built on a money illustration.

What are you doing with the equipment God has given you? Have you folded it up in a napkin or is your equipment working full time for God and the glory of His Kingdom?

Do you whittle and spit tobacco juice when you could be helping the sick, feeding the hungry, spreading the Gospel story?

Every loafer is a member of the napkin brotherhood.

Every worker who works on a low plane—stews his life away about hogs—puts his faith in land—puts in his time at bridge parties and dances—thinks mainly about the American League or the Giants, or Dempsey, or new dresses, or earrings, or necklace, or new spring hats—these people all belong to the napkin brotherhood or sisterhood.

Your energy may be wonderful and your power of the 8 cylinder type but if they are not pitched on a high plane and dedicated to the Son of God absolutely, you are just another one of the napkin fellow, fooling away your time, folding away your pound burying your talents.

I haven't been able to do that in many years. I can thank S. S. S. for it all! To me it was a rising sun of joy and liberty. Brothers and sisters in misery, do not close your eyes and think that health, free motion and strength are gone from you forever! It is not so. It is here and now for all of you. S. S. MRS. LINDQUIST TELLS WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did for Her

Kansas City, Mo.—"I was left in a very serious condition after childbirth and no one thought I could ever be any better. Then came the 'Change of Life' and I was not prepared for what I had to suffer. I had to go to bed at times to be perfectly quiet as I could not even stoop down to pick anything from the floor. I did not suffer any pain, but I was decidedly nervous and could not sleep. For nearly two years I was this way, and the doctor was frank enough to tell me that he could do no more for me. Shortly after this I happened to see in a newspaper an advertisement of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. In a few days the medicine was in the house and I had begun its use and I took it regularly until I was well. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to others when I have the opportunity."—Mrs. MAY LINDQUIST, 2814 Independence Ave., Kansas City, Mo.

Fire Burns Cafe of Wm. Herbert, Hopkins

When William Herbert of Hopkins went down to open his restaurant this morning about 5:30 o'clock, he discovered the enterior of store in ruins from a smouldering fire. It is thought that the fire was started by a defective wiring on a board partition between the kitchen and the other part of the restaurant. The fire had gone out when Mr. Herbert arrived at the store, but the partition had burned completely and fallen to the cement floor in the basement. His entire stock and furnishings are a total loss, according to Mr. Herbert and there was about $500 insurance on the loss. The reason that the fire did not spread was said to be due to the absence of any wind to fan the blaze in the store.

Former Yards Man in With Heavy Hogs

(St. Joseph Stock Yards Journal)

Henry Giesken, who until four years ago was connected with a local commission firm at the yards, now engaged in farming and live stock handling near Parnell, in Nowaway county, Mo., was on the market today with a load of hogs. The offerings were of the good heavy butcher class, averaging 307 lbs. They sold at $8, a good price for hogs of their weight on the present market. The hogs were Poland Chinas, all of them barrows. This makes 2 loads of hogs Mr. Geisken has marketed here this month, all his own raising. With the exception of 1,000 pounds of tankage all the feed that went into them was raised on his 160-acre farm. He has 37 sows reserved for spring farrowing and is gradually enlarging the scope of his live stock operations. He also handles enuf cattle to keep his grass down and utilize his surplus ruff feed. Best of all, perhaps, he is training 2 fine boys, now 10 and 12 years old, respectively, for successful farmers and stock growers. Each of these boys has a small interest in the farm, with a steadily growing bank account. Mr. Giesken gave each of the boys a good brood sow to care for and the profits from her and her litters go into their respective bank accounts. "I feel that the place for my boys is on the farm," said Mr. Giesken, "and I believe to keep them there contented they must have something to do that will stimulate their interest, a partnership in the farm. When I come home from market I sit down with them and have them figure out what our stock brot to teach them bookkeeping accounts and business methods. They are in school and already they have acquired more knowledge of farm accounts and business methods which every farmer should have than many farmers who have been in the game for years, possess."

The LOST HALF
--You are Losing Half the Power of Your Gasoline

In a recent interview in the Kansas City Star, C. F. Kettering, head of the General Motors Co., declares that 50 miles to the gallon of gasoline is not a wild dream at this time.

He further says that theoretically there are 160 miles in a gallon of gas.

"It is just as sure to come as the developments in radio were in 1913," he explained.

The fuel question for the automobile owner is a serious one. Do you want to save from 25 per cent to 50 per cent on your cost? Of course you do.

Stransky Vaporizer and Decarbonizer will—

1. Remove carbon from engine,
2. Prevent spark plug trouble and over-heating,
3. Make engine start easier,
5. Prevent battery drain,
6. Save 25 per cent to 50 per cent of gasoline,
7. Make more miles per gallon than any other device on the market regardless of price.

Automatic and Self-Regulating.

The Stransky Vaporizer is automatic and self-regulating. It has two independent valves, No. 1 and No. 2. As soon as the motor starts valve No. 1 will rise and admit the required amount of air in proportion to the amount of gasoline used. When the car attains a speed of fifteen miles per hour, valve No. 2 rises and admits the required amount of air in proportion to the gasoline used. Both valves remain open until the car slows down to fifteen miles per hour when valve No. 2 closes and valve No. 1 remains open until the motor stops. Both of these valves are equipped with a patented atomizer. The air passes through this atomizer with such force that it shatters every particle of gasoline and converts it into vapor.

This patented automatic and self-regulating feature has made the Stransky Vaporizer famous the world over where automobiles are used.

Car owners say our vaporizer will vaporize right close to 100 per cent of the gasoline. If your vaporizer vaporizes 25 to 50 per cent more of the fuel you are consequently getting 25 to 50 per cent more mileage, power, speed and no carbon and a smooth running motor.

There is only one way to save gasoline, and that is to vaporize it. There is no power to gasoline unless it is vaporized. You can prove this by filling a cup full of gasoline and touching a match to it; it will only burn as fast as it evaporates.

The vaporizer is made entirely of brass and steel, weighing only four ounces, and will last a life time. It can be installed in five minutes' time, no drilling or tapping necessary. No springs, shutters or diaphragms to wear out.

REMOVE CARBON

Every automobile owner has asked himself these questions: 1—Why so many repair shops? 2—Why so much gasoline used? 3—Why so much cylinder oil used? 4—Why so much hard cranking? 5—Why overheated motors? 6—Why overboiled radiators? 7—Why so many cracked porcelains? 8—Why so much spark plug trouble? 9—Why do valves need grinding? 10—Why so much transmission trouble? 11—Why does motor lose power and speed? 12—Why does jerky motor wear heavy on the tires?

The answer to all these questions is carbon, and the Stransky fuel Vaporizer eliminates and removes it.

PICKERING
O. G. NULL

Virgil Hyde and family moved the first of the week from the William Wiley place, northeast of town, to the Cyrus Ashford farm, near Sun Rise school house. The place Mr. Hyde vacated will be occupied by a Mr. Hinton who is coming from near Bedford.

Ray Hackett has purchased a farm, south west of Barnard, and will move to it from the Hughes farm northwest of town where he farmed the past year. His sale last Wednesday was well attended and stuff brought fair prices though the bidding was not as snappy as at earlier sales in this vicinity.

Mrs. A. A. Alexander returned last week from Hopkins where she had been visiting at the home of her brother for some time.

Lester Pope and Harold Hinton came down from Creston last Sunday, for a short visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hinton and with other relatives here. They returned the first of the week to their work in the railway shops at Creston.

Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Null went to St. Joseph on Wednesday afternoon and spent the night with Mrs. Null's sister Mrs. A. B. McGlothlan and Dr. McGlothlan. On Thursday Mr. Null attended the meeting of the Rural Letter Carrier's Association of the 4th Congressional district of which he is secretary.

Mrs. Alva Lett was taken to the hospital at Maryville last Monday for treatment for bladder disorder from which she has been suffering a few days. At this time she is reported as slightly improved.

Mr. Chas. Hinton and his sister, Miss Louisa, were called to St. Joseph last Monday by the serious illness of their sister, Miss Blanche Hinton, who has been in St. Joseph for some time. Miss Hinton is reported as slightly improved on Thursday though still quite weak from the effects of bronchial pneumonia. Her sister remained to assist in caring for her while her brother returned home Tuesday.

SCHOOL NOTES

There has been no school in the Intermediate room the past two days on account of the illness of the teacher, Miss Mildred Smith.

The Grammar room has been dismissed for the week also on account of the illness of the teacher, Mrs. Ruby Eggers Moore.

Most of the High School pupils who were out of school last week on account of illness, have returned to school this week to the gratification of both teachers and pupils.

The Juniors and Seniors of the High School will debate the subject, "Resolved that the People and Government have been More Important in the Development of Countries than have been Physical Features and Natural Resources," at the opening exercises on Friday morning. The debaters are affirmative, Forrest Smith and Hildred Hinton, negative, Ruth Clayton and Helen Strong. The judges will be Rev. Knouse, Rev. Douglas and Professor Geyer.

The good speech pageant which was to have been given this week has been postponed on account of the illness of some who were to participate in it.

METHODIST CHURCH

Sunday school at 10 a. m., morning worship with sermon 11 a. m., Epworth League at 6:45 p. m., led by Ruth Clayton, Subject, "Seeing God through the Life of Jesus," Jno. 14. 1-15. No evening preaching, because of the prevalence of the flu the pastor will not preach at Myrite Tree Sunday evening.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

We are glad to see the increase in the Sunday school attendance last Sunday. Of course it was not as much an increase as it might have been but we understand that several were obliged to be absent on account of the flu and other sickness. That excuse is accepted but there are others that we do not like to take. Lets boom the school.

We are glad to learn that Mrs. Lett, who is in the hospital at Maryville is improving.

The Busy Bees and Live Wires have been thrown together for a short time. Let us more than double the attendance. All of the ages of these two classes are especially invited to Sunday school.

The Missionary Society will hold its next meeting at the church, Thursafternoon, March 2 at 2:30 o'clock. All women of the church are invited to the meeting.

The morning sermon will be "Are We Dreaming?" The night discourse will probably be, "The Rich Young Man and Jesus." The young folks are especially invited to the night service.

FAUST PASSES BUCK TO G.O.P. COMMITTEE

REFERS POSTMASTERSHIP QUARREL BACK TO ST. JOSEPH.

CLAIM INDORSEMENTS

C. D. Morris Approved by County Committee, But Proxies Voted—Marshall Has Individuals Members.

(St. Joseph News-Press.)

Washington, Feb. 23.—Representative Faust has not yet made any recommendation as his preference for the postmastership at either St. Joseph or South St. Joseph. He explained that he has forwarded the eligible lists for places to the chairman of the committee, as has been his practice in all other postmaster nominations. He will await a reply before indicating his preferences to the postoffice department.

Is the postoffice fight that stirred the Republican county committee last summer to be waged again? It would seem so, from the action of Congressman Faust in sending the eligible lists to the county committee.

John Schuder is chairman of the Republican central committee and Harry Leslie is secretary. Both are personally friendly to the candidacy of C. D. Morris.

Chairman Schuder said today that so far as he knows now no further indorsement will be made by the committee regarding the uptown postoffice but the committee likely will meet next week to make an indorsement on the South St. Joseph office.

"We indorsed Mr. Morris and I see no reason to indorse again," Mr. Schuder said this afternoon, "but we will meet next week to act on the South End postoffice."

If Chairman Schuder calls another committee meeting a merry old row may be expected. For here is the situation as to indorsements:

Committee for Morris?

Last August the committee voted that an indorsement must not be by individual committeemen but by the committee in session. At that same meeting Mr. Morris was indorsed. Five committeemen were represented by proxies.

So Mr. Morris was indorsed.

Elliot Marshall when he saw what the committee had done, got busy and secured the signatures of thirteen out of twenty-two committeemen to a petition, indorsing his own candidacy.

So Mr. Marshall has been indorsed.

Both the committee indorsement of Mr. Morris and the individual committeemen's indorsement of Mr. Marshall are now in the hands of Congressman Faust. So it is easy to see that the Congressman has taken advantage of this seeming contradiction to ask for a new indorsement.

Look for Battle Royal.

There is a strong feeling on the part of some committeemen not to call another meeting.

"Personally I don't see any necessity for it," Secretary Leslie said today. "We made our indorsement for Mr. Morris. It should stand. The committee is the same today as made this indorsement last August following the primary."

If a new meeting is called supporters of Mr. Morris and Mr. Marshall are preparing for a battle royal. In addition to the original supporters he mustered, Marshall now has an alley in John Albus, who had several committeemen pledged to him, if reports are to be credited.

Albus, it is recalled, was a candidate for postmaster, but lost out when Morris, Marshall and Frank Allen were named as the three eligibles. Albus said today that if a meeting is called he will be present on a proxy and will work for Marshall.

Faust's Difficult Position.

The Marshall-Albus combination point out that at the meeting which indorsed Morris the vote for Morris was barely enough to insure his indorsement, and that if a new meeting is called the committeemen, whose proxies voted for Morris, will be present and cast their own votes.

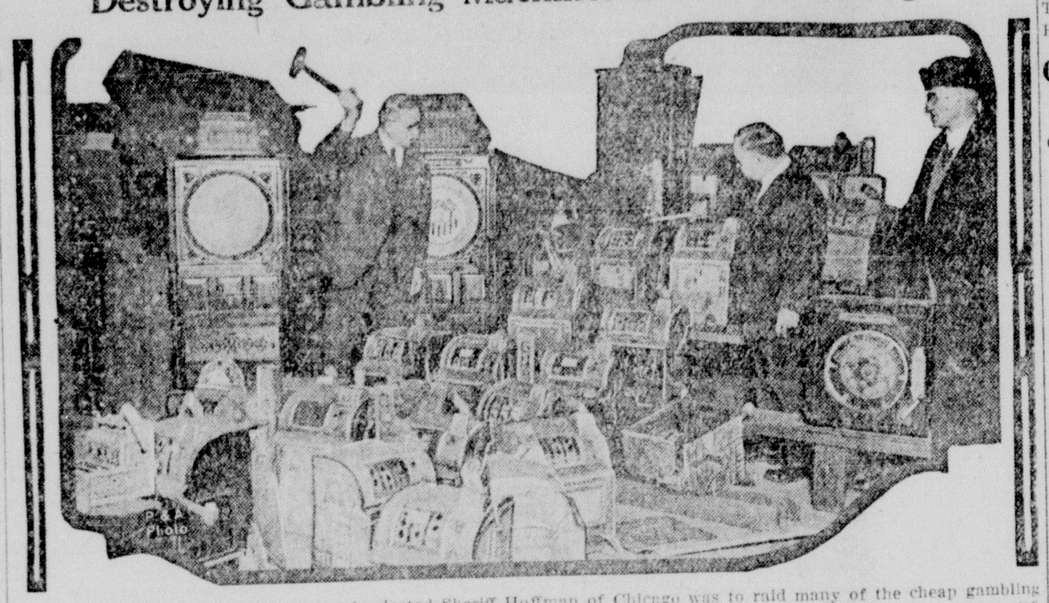
Politicians have been watching this fight for a long time wondering what Congressman Faust will do. Marshall when mayor named Faust city counselor and their personal friendship has been strong. On the other hand, Morris once chairman of the Republican state committee, has powerful friends whose influence has been extended in his behalf, the knowing ones say that Faust has cleverly sidestepped a difficult proposition when he sent word back for another indorsement.

In South St. Joseph.

It is agreed that action will come soon as this congress will adjourn sine die March 4 and Faust would naturally prefer to have the postmaster named and confirmed by the present senate.

As to the South St. Joseph postoffice the committee will not have much trou-

Destroying Gambling Machines Seized in Chicago



One of the first moves by the newly-elected Sheriff Hoffman of Chicago was to raid many of the cheap gambling joints. Ten thousand dollars worth of gambling machines were confiscated. Deputies smashed up the machines with sledge hammers.

ble. Two are eligible and one of them is a Democrat, so it is hardly likely that a Republican committee will do anything but indorse the lone Republican. He is Harry Korf, a clerk in the South End office. His rival is Hugh Bowen, now postmaster there, and a Democrat. It is a foregone conclusion, politicians say, that Korf will be indorsed.

Mr. Watson says Mr. Tylee is an experienced driller and the work will start in the very near future. A duplicate of the contract with both Watson's and Tylee's signature thereon, was enclosed in the letter.

Bethany Doctor Drives Car Into Moving Train

Freight Was Gentle with His Flivver, He Says—Was Not Injured

Bethany, Mo., Feb. 23—Dr. E. F. Harding is Bethany's lucky man of the week. To deliberately drive a car into the side of a moving freight train and live to tell the story is almost more than one could expect, but the doctor did it.

The doctor was driving south on Fifteenth street about 10 o'clock at night in answer to a call. As his Ford coupe came over a hill he looked in both directions for a train, but, seeing none, he did not slow up. When only a few feet from the tracks a brakeman's lantern gave him his first suspicion that there was a train anywhere near. He applied the brakes, but not soon enough to avoid striking the side of a freight train headed west. The front end of the Ford ran under the moving freight cars, which dragged the car around and gently dropped it alongside and out of the way of danger. The doctor says that the car is as good as new—"and it never touched me."

Why the Nation Demands Calumet

—because it has more than the ordinary leavening strength; it raises millions of bakings every day to a light perfectly baked perfection that cannot be equaled.

—because it contains white-of-egg—the vital element that gives the housewives protection against using a baking powder that has lost its original leavening strength. It assures light, tender, tasteful things every time you bake.

—because it is economical—pure, sure and wholesome.

That's why the sale of Calumet is over 150% greater than that of any other baking powder.

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 ounces. Some baking powders come in 12 ounce instead of 16 ounce cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.
